Outstanding Books On Dharma

Like us, you may have found how hard it is to find truly great books on dharma, especially for children. Whether due to violence, imprecise philosophy, or other shortcomings most titles that cross our desks somehow miss the mark. Listed here are a few dozen notable exceptions drawn from an array of Hindu traditions and other religions. We endorse them all, but recommend those marked with a star (*) most highly. We believe all to be in print.

CHILDREN'S BOOKS

Carr, Rachel, Be a Frog, a Bird, or a Tree. Harper Colophon Books, 10 East 53rd Street, New York, New York 10022, USA. 1977. A children's course in hatha yoga, with 30 poses.

Corkery, Forrest and Marti Mueller, A Child and a Tree. Sri Aurobindo International Institute of Educational Research Aspiration, Auroville, Tamil Nadu 605 104, India. 1989. The cause, consequences and solution to deforestation, as seen through the eyes of a boy in an Indian village.

Harkonen, Reijo, The Children of Nepal. Carolrhoda Books, Inc., 241 First Avenue North, Minneapolis, Minnesota 55401, USA. A colorful picture book of children from all parts of Nepal. Not especially informative on Hinduism, but a nice glimpse into a child's life in Nepal.

Hermes, Jules, The Children of India. Carolrhoda Books, Inc., 241 First Avenue North, Minneapolis, Minnesota 55401, USA. A colorful picture book of children from all parts of India. Not especially informative on Hinduism, but a nice glimpse into a child's life in India.

Kalman, Bobbie, India, the Culture; India, the Land and India, the People. Crabtree Publishing Company, Department 2TT, 350 Fifth Avenue #3308, New York 10118, USA. Nicely written; beautiful photographs. This is a children's tour of India's land, people and culture. It has a reasonably accurate description of Hindu beliefs and customs.

*Khandpur, Swarn, Let Us Know India (12 volumes). India Book House, 249, Dr. D.N. Road, Bombay 400 001, India. 1976. A comprehensive series dealing with all aspects of India: people, geography, history, customs, culture, arts, economy, agriculture, dress and music.

Krishnaswami, Uma, Stories of the Flood. Roberts Rinehart Publishers, 5455 Spine Road, Mezzanine West, Boulder, Colorado 80301, USA. Similar stories of a great flood in ancient times found in many world religions, including Hinduism.

Nath, Pratibha, A Bowl of Water. Children's Book Trust, Nehru House, 4, Bahadur Shah Zafar Marg, New Delhi, India. A book for young children on kindness to animals.

Patel, Mickey, Rupa the Elephant. National Book Trust, A-5 Green Park, New Delhi 110 016, India. 1974. A book for very young children about a friendly elephant.

Pfeffer, Pierre, Elephants, Big, Strong and Wise. Young Discovery Library, 217 Main Street, Ossining, New York 10562, USA. Adults will also love this remarkably comprehensive book on these marvelous creatures.

*Rushton, Lucy, et al., Comparing Religions. Thomson Learning, One Penn Plaza, 41st Floor, New York, New York 10119, USA. This is a six-book series originally done in the United Kingdom: Pilgrimages and Journeys, Death Customs, Birth Customs, Food and Fasting, Marriage Customs and Initiation Customs. Excellent and unbiased presentations for each of the world's major religions, including Hinduism, Buddhism, Sikhism, Christianity, Judaism and Islam. The series has the impact of strengthening each religion's beliefs, culture and customs.

Sasso, Sandy Eisenberg, In God's Name. Jewish Lights Publishing, P.O. Box 237, Sunset Farm Offices, Route 4, Woodstock, Vermont 05091, USA. 1994. A story for young children on how people learned the nature of God.
